NEW YORK CRIME MINE TAPPED

"Automobile Graveyard" Discovered in East River.

40 CARS FOUND AT BOTTOM

Expected to Solve Many of City's Murder Mysteries.

NEW YORK—(By United Press) —Police officers who today began dredging an "automobile graveyard" in East River here, were convinced they had tapped a mine of crime.

Discoveries already made showed that the grave of many a stolen automobile has been located. Police believed they would dispel many a mystery which has baffled them heretofore.

MAY SOLVE MYSTERIES

They indicated they would not be surprised if the dripping machines to be lifted from the silty bottom of the river would bring with them the bodies of murder victims, possibly looted from robberies and perhaps the explanation of a number of strange "disappearances."

Grappling hooks already dropped showed the water covered 40 machines. Police declared that with this graveyard thoroughly investigated, they will dredge from other piers.

Lonely wharves running out into deep water will be investigated first in the belief that they offered the best opportunity for "losing" machines.

MOTIVE FOR CRIMES

The investigation was expected to vindicate a theory that many of the stolen machines reported here were sunk in the "graveyard" so that insurance might be collected, the insurance bringing more money than could be secured by selling a used machine in the face of lower prices.

The first machine taken from the graveyard, was found to be the property of a butcher here, William Seiger. Seiger declared the machine cost more than the $400 insurance he had on it. When found all valuable small parts had been removed.

EX-WIFE IS SLAIN

Ohio Man Shoots Woman and Then Takes Poison.

STUEBENVILLE — (By United Press) —With physicians trying to save his life from poison, self-administered, and his former wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Woodward, dead from bullet wounds received in a three-cornered gun fight last night, Edward Still is reported dying at a local hospital.

The tragedy that may result in Still's death, took place with Still, Mrs. Woodward and a caller at Mrs. Woodward's home as participants. The visitor is told as a material witness.

Still and Mrs. Woodward were divorced last April. Still returned from the west last night. Appearing at the door he produced a revolver, informing his former wife that he had come to "settle something." According to the story told police, Mrs. Woodward procured her own pistol and the two talked for half an hour, each armed with loaded revolvers, while walking in the yard.

After Mrs. Woodward entered the house, Still is alleged to have shot thru the door, the fire was returned and he was shot thru the wrist.

SCOTTY ANGRY WHEN HE FINDS AMERICA DRY

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Sandy Duncan, a Scotch sailor, who for four years has been sailing between Calcutta and Shanghai, learned today that the United States had gone dry. He tried to have a bartender arrested for refusing to sell him a wee drappie of whiskey.

His ship steamed into Brooklyn and he immediately visited a place ashore where white aprons are worn.

"A glass of whiskey," said Sandy. He didn't believe the story he then heard about prohibition and he called at a police station to seek justice for "discrimination against a Scotchman." When he learned the truth, he said he'd select ships sailing east of Suez hereafter.

COURT GUARDED AS TRIAL OPENS

Kentucky Feudist Faces Jury On Charge of Murder.

MEMBERS OF CLANS GATHER

Troops Stationed As Renewal of War is Feared.

MOUNT VERNON, Ky.—(By Associated Press) —With twenty-five national guardsmen from London, and twenty special deputy sheriffs on guard, the Rock Castle-co court-house presented a martial appearance as the case of John Bailey, Jr., slayer of Beverly White, was called for trial here today. Bailey's case was brought here on a change of venue from Knox-co, where the slaying occurred. Approximately 100 members of the Bailey-Lee clan and the Whites attending factions in the most bitter mountain feud that has torn eastern Kentucky in recent years, were present for the opening of the trial.

The troops and special deputies were summoned to keep down any possible flareup of the feudal spirit that in the last few years has caused a number of deaths on both sides of the mountain war and which in the last quarter of a century has resulted in possibly a score of murders.

Judge B. J. Bethune, who is conducting the court here, asked for special guards for the court room.

Major James L. Dillon, in charge of the guardsmen, has issued warning to the clansmen against carrying concealed weapons during the trial.

FATHER TO BE TRIED

The killing for which Bailey is to be tried occurred April 7, last, at Heidrick's Station, near Barboursville. Bailey, with his father, William Bailey, a brother, James Bailey, and a deputy sheriff named Perry, took to the woods but surrendered two days later and was taken to the Harlan-co Jail. Later he was transferred to Mount Vernon and then to Louisville and finally was granted bail at Mount Vernon. John Bailey was indicted on the charge of wilful murder and for this he is to be tried. His father, brother and Perry have been indicted on the charge of conspiracy to murder Beverly White and their cases also are set for this term.

Altho the best of order is being kept here by the state troops and special deputies, the Whites and the Blacks present somewhat the appearance of warring factions preparing to leap at one another. The Whites have made the Rock Castle hotel headquarters for their adherents, while the Baileys and Lees are putting up at a boarding house. On the street one seldom sees a member of one opposing clan on the same side with members of the other.

MOTHER SLAYS BABY TO DEFEAT POVERTY PERIL

Cleveland Woman Takes Life to Prevent Her Offspring Facing World In Want—Locked In Jail On the Charge of Murder

CLEVELAND. — (By Associated Press.) — Mrs. Mary Soltis, 26, preferring to see her baby dead than have it face a life of poverty, was under arrest at police headquarters today on a charge of murder.

Police Sergeant McCarthy declares the young woman, who lives with her husband, admitted she smothered her week-old child rather than see it live in want.

Yesterday afternoon Sergeant McCarthy received a report that a woman in the West Sixth-st neighborhood had been seen trying to dispose of the body of a baby. Search of the district revealed the body of a baby boy in a dinner pail in the basement of Mrs. Soltis' home.

At the county morgue it was declared the infant had been smothered to death and McCarthy then went back to the West Sixth-st house and questioned Mrs. Soltis.

"I smothered the baby with the bed clothes," she is said to have declared. "I did not want to see him grow up with nothing ahead. There is no money—nothing. What could I do? He would be better dead."

She wept when told she would have to go to jail.

U. S. OPINION MAY SWAY IRISH

Boland's Message Awaited by Republican Parliament.

SECRET SESSIONS ARE BEGUN

Dissension in Ranks Over Peace Attitude Reported.

DUBLIN.—(By Associated Press) — Secret sessions of the Irish republican parliament to draft the Sinn Fein reply to Great Britain's peace proposals began here today. The public meetings last week and subsequent conferences between Eamon De Valera and his colleagues, were believed to have laid the ground for an early reply.

The presence of Harry J. Boland, who represented Mr. De Valera in the United States after the Sinn Fein schism had returned to Ireland was considered as important, as it was believed he would submit to the parliament a report outlining the state of public opinion on the other side of the Atlantic. It has been understood since the initial meeting of the parliament that a decision might be delayed until Mr. Boland reached the city, and his arrival yesterday was looked upon as significant.

DEATH IN RANKS

There have been indications that a certain amount of dissension existed in the rank and file of the parliament over the attitude to be taken toward the British offer of a declaration of independence and it appeared probable today that many members would speak on the question before final decision was reached.

Press comments by Dublin newspapers would seem to reflect a desire on the part of the Sinn Fein not to utterly reject the British offer, but rather to obtain from Prime Minister Lloyd George a statement giving details of the government's offer.

ACCEPTANCE URGED

Objections have been made that Ireland, because of her geographical position, would not be given the same sort of dominion government that is enjoyed by Canada or Australia, and it has been held that the prime minister should define his exact position in this respect. Organ of the Unionists have been urging acceptance of the government's proposals, or at least the submission of them to a plebiscite in southern Ireland.

The attitude of Ulster up to today had apparently been unrelenting, so far as making common cause with the Sinn Fein in attempting to reach a settlement with Great Britain was concerned. It seemed the decision of Sir James Craig to stand aloof during negotiations between Dublin and London had not been reconsidered.

WEEK-END PASSED QUIETLY

The week-end passed quietly in this city, but it was marked in Belfast by the explosion of a bomb.

The result of today's secret meeting was awaited with palpable anxiety, not unmixed, it appeared with considerable hope of favorable developments. Hardly anyone expected a decision today, but it was surmised that some indication of the final action might be derived from the first day's session.

BIDS ON WOODEN SHIPS ARE ACCEPTED BY BOARD

WASHINGTON. — The shipping board today was in a fair way of getting rid of the major portion of its "white elephants"—the war time constructed wooden ships.

Official announcement by the board contained the information that bids submitted by the ship construction and trading corporation of New York of $2,100 each for 295 of the 285 wooden craft had been accepted.

Vice chairman O'Connor, of the board, commenting today on the sale said the price was exceedingly low in view of the cost of the 235 vessels recently estimated by Chairman Lasker at $230,000,000. Mr. O'Connor pointed out that the board long had sought to sell the wooden ships and said that the alternative to sale at a low price was allowing the boats to rot at anchor.

150 TRAPPED IN HOTEL FIRE

Macon, Ga., Hostelry Destroyed When Explosion Starts Blaze.

TEN ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Search of Ruins May Reveal Larger Death Toll.

MACON, Ga., — (By Associated Press.) — Eleven persons early today, were believed to have lost their lives in the fire which last night destroyed the Brown house, one of the oldest hotels here. One man is known to be dead and firemen believed there are at least ten bodies in the ruins.

The fire also destroyed half the block on which the hotel was located, before being brought under control at 3:30 a. m.

Owing to loss of the hotel register, no check on the number of missing had been secured at an early hour today.

TEN IN HOSPITAL

Ten persons, suffering injury from burns or sustained in jumping from the second and third stories of the hotel, are under treatment at the Macon hospital.

Starting with an explosion of chemicals in an adjacent drug store, which blew in the side of the structure, the fire quickly shut off the escape of many of the hotel guests, and heavy loss of life is believed to have resulted from the numbers being trapped in the rear halls of the building. Finding the stairways blown away by the force of the explosion and the fire escapes almost instantly enveloped in flames, those in the front part of the building were forced to leap from windows on the lower floors.

150 REGISTERED

Men on the sidewalks saved many women from injury by catching them in their arms. Between 100 and 150 persons were registered at the hotel.

G. I. Wilder, who escaped by dropping from the third floor of the hotel annex, said he was certain, he left ten or fifteen men behind him in that part of the building who had no way of escape.

The only known death at an early hour today was that of J. W. Hays, justice of the peace, who died from burns while being removed to the hospital. Altho the fire had burned itself out in the hotel area, firemen said it would be several hours before the premises could be explored to determine the number of dead.

PASTOR HELD IN WIFE'S DEATH

Drowning of Woman in California Is Investigated.

SAN JOSE, Calif.—(By United Press)—Quarrels over money were blamed today by the Rev. John A. Spencer, Santa Rosa minister, held in jail here while authorities investigate the death of his wife.

Mrs. Spencer was drowned while boating with her husband at Clear Lake, Calif., several days ago, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury. But, the body was exhumed and an autopsy performed, the findings of which have not been announced.

While prison workers sang hymns in the city jail yard, Rev. Spencer told his side of the story.

He charged that a woman with whom he and his wife boarded for a time, had been "scooped" by him after they had had trouble over a board bill.

"It's a scorned woman burning for revenge," he declared.

He charged this woman had furnished the authorities with the circumstantial evidence against him. He then detailed trouble he had had with Dr. Charles Craig, the autopsy surgeon over a doctor bill. This, he declared, caused him to believe Dr. Craig was anxious to see him prosecuted.

Mrs. Spencer was formerly Emma Morris, of Toledo, Ohio.

HEROES HONORED

Americans Dedicate Tablet to Defenders of Verdun.

VERDUN, France.—(By Associated Press)—Members of the American Legion this morning dedicated a tablet to the defenders of Verdun in the city hall here. The ceremony was carried out in the presence of all the city officials. The tablet was erected to the men who, during the terrible German onslaught of February and March, 1918, stood before Verdun and held back the enemy.

The tablet bears an inscription stating that it was dedicated to the men who "uttered the immortal words: 'They shall not pass.'" At the end of the ceremony four of the Americans were decorated by the municipality with the special medal of Verdun.

WANTED - A HUSBAND

By SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

FOLLOWING IS the initial installment of Samuel Hopkins Adams' new novel "Wanted - A Husband." This latest offering of The News series of popular novels, is written in a humorous vein, yet it has a real mystery element and a love affair that is as unique as it is novel.

Darcy Cole, the heroine, is a plain little thing who never has a good time. Sympathetic friends take her in hand and she turns or to be a harum-scarum. Her capers after her "regeneration" are told in Mr. Adams' best style.

Read "Wanted - A Husband" daily in The News. After you read the following chapter you'll not miss a single installment.

Out of order! pertly announced the placard on the elevator. To Miss Darcy Cole, this seemed the final malignancy of the mean spirited fates. Four beetling flights to climb!

At the top of the trowning heights the studio apartment of Miss Gloria Greene would open to her. There would be tea, fresh, brewed and invigorating. There would be a broad and restful couch full of fluffy pillows, comforting to tired limbs. There would be Gloria Greene herself, big and beautiful and radiant, representing everything which poor little Darcy Cole was not, and, furthermore, a sure source of wise counsel, or, at worst, of kindly solace for a case which might be too hopeless for counsel. Darcy nerved her soggy muscles to the ordeal.

On the second landing she paused to divide a few moments between hard breathing and hating the imitation-leather roll beneath her arm. Including the wall-paper design within, just rejected by B. Riegel & Sons, the whole affair might have weighed two pounds. It felt like two hundred. She set a hand to her panting chest and a thorn promptly impaled her thumb. Tearing off the offending rose Darcy flung it over the banister rail. It was a flabby, second-hand wreath of a rose, anyhow, having been passed down to the wearer by her flat-mate, Maud Rainer, who in turn had it, along with eleven others from her fiancé.

Darcy stuck out a vindictive tongue at the discarded flower. Nobody ever sent her roses! She clambered up the third flight and leaned against the wall to rally her spent energies, with her hands thrust deep into the sagging pockets of her coat. Something light and scratchy rubbed against her bare forefinger, which was protruding from a hole in her glove. Being exhumed, it revealed itself as one of those tiny paper frills wherein high-priced candy is chastely attired. The departed bon-bon had come from a box sent by Paul Wood, the architect, to Darcy's other flat-mate, Helen Barrett, to whom he had just become engaged. Darcy crushed the inoffensive ornament flat with a vengeful foot. Nobody ever sent her candy in frilly collars! She took the final flight in a rush, burst in upon the labors of Miss Gloria Greene, planted her foot in the middle of the floor, dropped her work roll and kicked it as far as she could, and lifted up the voice of lamentation.

"Oh, I wish—wish—I wish I were dead—dead!" mourned Miss Cole with violence.

Gloria Greene dropped the typed sheets which she had been studying and rose from her chair. She looked down at the lumpy, lax figure of helplessness, petulant rebellion before her.

"Oh, you do, do you?" she remarked pensively.

"Yes, I do!"

"That's imagination, you know," continued Gloria Greene.

"It isn't," sniveled Darcy.

"Then it's indigestion. Have a pill."

"I won't!" declined the girl rudely. "You're making fun of me. They all make fun of me. I do wish I was dead!"

"Do you, indeed!"

Setting two slim hands upon the girl's shoulders, Gloria Greene proceeded methodically to shake her. She shook her until her hat came off and rolled upon the floor. She shook her until her hairpins fell like hair and her brown-black hair tumbled about her face. She further shook her until her eyes bulged out and a faint flame showed on her cheeks and her breath rattled on her teeth and she could barely gasp out:

"Stop! Stop! You're shaking me to p-pieces!"

"Why not?" inquired Miss Greene blandly, and shook harder than before.

"D-d-d-d-d-d-d-d-d-d!" wailed the victim. "W-w-wait a m-m-m-m-m-m-m-m-m-m!"

The shaker desisted, still main

FAIR GATES OPEN TO THOUSANDS

Accord Breaking Attendance Is In Prospect.

BIG SHOW OPENS TUESDAY

All Roads Lead to Lima For Fair This Week.

The big Allen-co fair swung wide open its gates Monday. From early in the morning until late in the afternoon the fair ground east of the city was the objective for traffic of every description.

Farmers with their livestock, citizens with their displays and merchants with their motor vehicles, their farm implements or goods sold in the stores of the county, streamed toward the grounds.

Women in the needlework and fine arts department were bringing in their handwork to be arranged Tuesday.

Grangers were decorating their displays and placing the articles, farm products and fruit was also being arranged.

The fair ground Monday was the busiest place in Lima, every department teeming with activity. Early Tuesday all the displays will be in place and judges will begin their work at 8 a. m. Wednesday.

PROSPECTS FINE
Advance information given out by Secretary M. L. Mayor that this year will surpass any former one in quantity and quality of exhibits was substantiated with the coming of the exhibits thruout the morning, Monday.

Children's day will be held on Tuesday, when all under 15 years will be admitted free.

Soldiers of every war will be admitted free on Wednesday, as special guests of the Allen-co fair board.

Exhibits will remain in place until Friday at 4 p. m.

The Allen-co court house, as customary during fair week, will be closed Thursday at noon, permitting all attaches to attend the fair on what is considered the biggest and best day.

BIG ATTENDANCE SEEN
The attendance this year is expected to eclipse anything ever before experienced. Demands for space for exhibits have been more numerous than in all past history of the Allen-co agricultural society show.

More and better and cleaner concessions have been booked and the program is such as to insure a week of activity that will provide something every minute.

Particular attention has been given to the racing card. Allen-co is noted for its fast track events, particularly in light harness effort. Big stakes offered has resulted in the try of top notch horse flesh for the race circuit. Some of the most notable horsemen in the country are here with their racing strings.

Secretary M. L. Mayor stated Monday that a visit to the grounds Tuesday will convince anyone that the fair this year will eclipse any similar event in past years in all departments.

LAKEVIEW MAN DENIES CHARGE OF REMOVING MORTGAGED PROPERTY

Charged with removing mortgaged property, with intent to defraud, Henry Whitfield, 19, Lakeview, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court, Monday. Windsor Jewellery Co. preferred the charges.

According to Emil Asher, manager of the concern, Whitfield nearly two years ago purchased a watch and chain of the value of $49.35, with the understanding that the property was not to be removed from Allen-co until all payments on it were made. Asher avers, Whitfield moved the property to Lakeview.

Upon his plea of not guilty, Whitfield's trial was set for Tuesday. He was remanded to city prison in default of $50 bond.

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

You buy a simple article and the price makes you gasp. "Who's getting the big profit?" you ask. "I'm not," replies the retailer, and he points to the wholesaler; the wholesaler to the jobber; the jobber to the manufacturer, and the manufacturer to the laborer.

The same old chain, with a profit on every link. Is all business like that? Must we pay two, three or four profits on everything we buy?

No indeed. Here is your gas company selling you service; delivering gas direct from the plant, right to the point of use in your home, without middlemen or middlemen's profits, and with every item of its cost regulated by your trusted representatives.

And seldom indeed does the profit exceed 2% on the money actually invested. Frequently it is less.

What other business renders so complete a service at so small a return?

ESTIMATES FOR MAIN-ST IMPROVEMENT PREPARED BY ENGINEER MILLER

Estimates for resurfacing S. Main-st. were submitted Monday by Vaughn Miller, city engineer. The cost of three different grades of material were included, showing prices of each.

Council ordered some time ago that the street be resurfaced with some suitable material and instructed Solicitor Garling to prepare legislation. The ordinance was subsequently passed.

Costs of the improvement range from $7,152 for bituminous macadam, to $13,563 for Willite. Prices for a pavement of sheet asphalt is quoted.

The prices shown in the estimate will be a basis for bids which are to be received from contractors. No date has been fixed for selling the contract.

Work of repairing the city streets has come to a halt, due to the fact that the appropriation made July 1 for the purpose has been exhausted by the service department. No more repair work can be done, Claude Zartman, superintendent of streets claims, until the auto license tax is received by the county.

MEXICO OIL LEVY IS ASSAILED

Former Lima Man Joins Other Producers in Protest.

Michael A. Spallacy, former Lima man and a brother of Simon Spallacy, of this city, engaged in oil production in the west and southwest and who recently made a trip by airplane to Lima from Tulsa, Oklahoma, when he was appraised of the critical illness of his brother, Timothy Spallacy here at St. Rita's hospital, is in New York, attending the conference of the American Petroleum Producers in Mexico.

The conference is for the purpose of endeavoring to bring about a compromise of the expert tax issue in the republic to the south.

"There has been a great falling off in the production and shipment of oil from the Tampico district because of unjust governmental discrimination," Spallacy said in New York.

"But President Obregon seems inclined to recede from his demand for a 40-cent tax on each barrel of oil," continued Spallacy, "and the Mexican Congress now is likewise acquiescent. The fact is Americans are obliged to shut down because they cannot operate with a profit at the present market prices for their commodity, together with an export tax."

"One firm already has ceased shipping and only about one-third of the product of other American and British companies is being marketed. A number of smaller companies, however, are running to capacity. Even with 20 cents a barrel profit. Even with 20 cents a barrel profit, they are reduced greatly."

Spallacy, who is a large operator in Mexico and South America, is hopeful that conferences of the Association for the Protection of American Rights in Mexico now going on may bring about a speedy and amicable adjustment.

LIMA PEOPLE OFFICERS OF FERRALL REUNION

Joseph Cox, Miller City, was elected president of the Ferrall reunion, at the first annual session at Maple Grove farm, Sunday. Elmer Brown, Lima, was elected vice president; Miss Gladys Brown, Lima, secretary, and Harry Kollers, Lima, treasurer.

The reunion was held at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown. Sixty members of the family attended. It was decided to hold another reunion next year, place to be designated later. The committee on arrangements for the next reunion includes Mrs. Thomas Ferrall, Mrs. James Ferrall and Mrs. Elmer Brown, all of Lima.

WOLVERINE FARMERS CANNOT VISIT LIMA

In response to a wire from the Chamber of Commerce asking them to visit this city, N. H. Horton, camp manager of 200 Michigan farmers, replied Monday stating that their routing could not be changed to include Lima.

The party of farmers from the Wolverine state has been touring Ohio and Indiana by automobile, stopping at the principal cities. The object of the tour is to let the world know their state is on the map. The caravan pitched its tents at Columbus over Sunday.

FINAL ESTIMATE FOR BROADWAY WORK PAID

Payment of the final estimate for the resurfacing of S Broadway was paid to Curtis V. Rector, Muncie, Indiana, contractor for the work, by Miss Irene Clark, deputy city auditor. The voucher for $681.43 was the last to be paid on a contract calling for an expenditure of approximately $8,000.

The paving extends from Kibby-st to Vine-st and is constructed of bituminous asphalt macadam. The city retains $1,000 on the amount of the contract until the Rector people complete the street and apply a seal coat of tar to the surface.

BODY OF SAGINAW MAN BROUGHT HERE: BURIAL WEDNESDAY IN TIFFIN

Information was received in Lima, telling of the death of Eugene Kloppe, 31, Saginaw, Mich., Friday. The body was accompanied to the home of his father-in-law, D. I. Kuukleman, Shawnee-twp, Sunday.

Funeral services will be held from St. Joseph's church, Tiffin, Wednesday, the body to be taken there Tuesday, Kloppe's former home.

Besides the widow, he is survived by three brothers and one sister. Death was due to paralysis.

STORK VISIT
Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sullivan, of 469 N. Pierce-st, announce the arrival of a daughter, Mary Katherine, born Sunday.

PLAN ADDITION TO BLACK BLOCK

Gregg Store to Have Total of 50,000 Feet Floor Space.

EXPENDITURE OF $60,000

Growth of Business Demands Additional Space.

Construction of an addition to the Black block, which will increase the floor area to 50,000 square feet, will commence early in 1922. Announcement of plans were made Monday by R. T. Gregg & company, great goods firm who have obtained a long term lease and will occupy the entire space.

The building, four floors and a basement, has 50 foot frontage in Main-st and the four floors extend back 300 feet. Plans for the additional floor space, include building in addition to make the upper floor uniform with the remainder of the building.

Cost of construction and remodeling offices and flats now occupying the upper floors, will approximate $60,000, Roy Gregg, member of the firm, stated Monday.

LEASE IS CLOSED
The lease was closed some days ago between heirs of John Black, owners, and R. T. and Roy Gregg. Consideration was not announced. The entire structure will be occupied by their store, by early fall, 1922, Gregg stated. Lease of the building was made to provide room for enlargement of the store, which has outgrown present quarters.

When new quarters are complete the store will be among the largest in northwestern Ohio. Tenants in the building, will remain for the present, it is stated. The growth of the R. T. Gregg company has been so incident with the development of the city in the past two decades. The firm came to this city in 1900, after being in business at Tiffin for 15 years.

At that time the store was only half the present size, but the growth of business soon forced Mr. Gregg to secure more space.

GROWTH IS RAPID
In the past 10 years the departments in the store have been limited by lack of space and some have been eliminated for that reason. Negotiations for a lease on the entire building have been going on for some time, the extra floors being needed.

New departments are to be added, old ones enlarged. The women's ready to wear, now occupying less than a quarter of the main floor, will have an entire floor, 10,000 feet of space. Other sections will be doubled and tripled.

A new front will be put in with modern show windows, and new fixtures will be installed thruout the store.

R. T. and Roy Gregg, father and son, will retain entire management, it is stated.

ROTARIANS HEAR PROGRAM OF MUSIC AND MEET ONE OF COMMISSION NOMINEES

Frank J. Banta, the Kandy King, in remembrance of his 46th birthday anniversary, furnished the musical program for the Rotary club luncheon Monday at the Norval.

The participants were Mrs. Blanche Kettlerwell Mackintosh, of Findlay, soprano; and Little Miss Dorothy Roth, Delphos, whistler. The latter, accompanied by her clever mother, Mrs. Carl Roth, rendered two classical numbers and drew an ovation from her Rotarian admirers.

Mrs. Mackintosh, soprano, was accompanied by Mrs. Carmen Flinn. She is an artist, with a well trained voice and wonderful range and she was forced to respond to two encores after rendering her prepared program.

Among the guests of the day was Harold Cunningham, nominee for new city commission. Mr. Cunningham responded to President Bayly's introduction and made an appeal that the citizens, male and women, take an active, earnest part in this fall's election, regardless of whether they voted for him or not. He believes that only in a rejuvenated public interest can we have a good popular government. Capt. Thompson remarked $187 for the Crippled Children's fund as the result of the post season's games with the Lions club.

NEGRO PEDDLER IS HELD ON SUSPICION

Police are holding Theodore Bird, 39, negro, pending investigation Monday.

Bird was arrested by Detective Cisenberry and Motorcop Glover. On the blotter at police headquarters he is charged with peddling without a license.

Chief Rouse, however, says Bird, when arrested had 27 rings in his possession. Police are making an effort to determine whether or not the rings are stolen property.

NEPHEW OF LIMA WOMAN IS KILLED IN MICHIGAN

Harry Joseph, 13, a nephew of Mrs. Flossie O'Dell, 801 N. Elizabeth-st, was accidentally killed at Henrietta, Michigan, Saturday, according to reports received here.

Details of the fatality are unknown, Mrs. O'Dell stated Monday. Relatives from this city and Spencerville have gone to Henrietta to attend the funeral.

The boy had visited in Lima and had a number of acquaintances in the city.

DEATH CALLS BROTHER OF LIMA MAN IN TOLEDO

John Pfeiffer, 50, former Delphos man and a brother of C. E. Pfeiffer, N. Charles-st, Lima, died Sunday morning in Toledo. The body was transferred Monday to Delphos, where funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, from St. John's Catholic church.

ILLEGAL TRAIN RIDING COSTS AKRON MAN MORE THAN PASSENGER RATES

Occasionally a man saves money by paying his fare on a train instead of beating a side.

At least that's the opinion of J. Simmons, 22, of Akron, who was presented before Judge Jackson in police court Monday, on a charge of train riding.

Simmons pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5. "Gee," he remarked as they "passed him back," "I'd better pay my fare, I'd saved money."

Simmons, when arrested, police say, had a pair of knucks in his pocket. The knucks now grace Judge Jackson's desk.

BURIAL OF ODRA CHILD TO TAKE PLACE TUESDAY

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock for Odra Chiles, 24, who died Saturday night at the home of his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Chiles, near Alger, Chiles was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fetter, Bath-twp.

Besides the widow, his parents and grand-parents, he is survived by a daughter, two years of age, three half brothers and four half sisters.

Services will be held at Adalgize church, near the home of his grand-parents. The Rev. Mr. Martin, formerly pastor of the United Brethren church at Harrod, will officiate. Interment will be in Auglaize church cemetery.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

James Bernard Walsh, 25, accountant, 124 E. Vine-st, and Helen Labon Donehoo, 20, cigar-maker, 957 N. Elizabeth-st.

BRITAIN'S REPLY TO U. S. RECEIVED

Accepts invitation to Disarmament Conference.

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Formal acceptance by the British government of the invitation to participate in the Washington conference on limitation of armament and Far Eastern questions was received today by Secretary Hughes. The note of acceptance was transmitted by Ambassador Harvey and was delivered to him by Lord Curzon, the British foreign minister.

Lord Curzon in the note said: "It is with sincere gratification that I have the honor on behalf of His Majesty's government to request your excellency to convey to the United States government our ready acceptance of their invitation to take part in this auspicious meeting with the objects of which His Majesty's government and the British nation are in wholehearted sympathy. It is the earnest and confident hope of His Majesty's government that this conference, approached as it will be, by all concerned in a spirit of courage, friendliness and mutual understanding, may achieve far-reaching results that will be conducive to the prosperity and peace of the world."

The British acceptance was the first of a formal nature to be received from the great powers in reply to the formal invitation of the American government. China several days ago notified this government that she would be glad to participate in the Far Eastern conference and France in what is regarded in some quarters as amounting to a formal acceptance notified the United States that Premier Briand would participate in the armament and Far Eastern discussions. Formal replies are yet to be received from Italy and Japan.

ONLY TWO ALLEGED DRUNKS OVER SUNDAY

Pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness when arraigned before Judge Jackson in police court Monday, H. R. Verbricht, 23, of 329 N. Elizabeth-st, was fined $15.

There was a notable decrease in the number of alleged drunks arrested over the week-end, as compared with other Saturdays and Sundays.

Besides Verbricht, Frank Gilmore, 29, 970 S. Main-st, was the only alleged drunk to fall into the arms of John Law.

JUG O' BOOZE AND GLASS BRINGS ARREST TO BRINE

They're selling it by the drink in Lima now.

Police say they are and a man pleaded guilty to transporting it. But police say he was doing even more.

Charley Brine, 38, who hails from Oklahoma was arrested here Sunday charged with transporting intoxicating liquors. When arrested, police declare Brine had a glass jug of "red eye" and a small glass. Police said he was dishing out the nominal charge per glass.

The man plead guilty to transporting the juice. Judge Jackson has taken the case under advisement. Meanwhile Brine is being held in city prison.

STATE PAINTERS START FOR LIMA

Signs to Indicate National Road and Dixie Highway.

Two gangs of painters in the employ of the state highway department, Monday started from Dayton on the first leg of a state-wide road marking campaign and will soon reach Lima. They expect to cover the entire length of the national road and the Dixie highway between now and the time snow flies.

Along each road they will paint a new system of signs. Posts, stones, bridges and culverts along the National road will be painted with a red stripe, eight inches wide, on a white background, with the words "National Road" in large black letters above the red stripe, and "State of Ohio, Division of Highways" below the stripe.

The same scheme will be followed on the Dixie highway, except that the stripe will be blue and the words "Dixie Highway" will appear above the stripe. Next year the Three C's road from Cleveland to Columbus and Cincinnati, will be marked with yellow stripes.

The highway department in time plans to designate all important east and west main roads with red stripes; all north and south roads with blue stripes and all diagonal roads with yellow stripes. The designation for the Lincoln highway will remain a red, white and blue band.

BUSINESS TO SUSPEND IN OTTAWA WHEN FARM BUREAU PICNIC IS HELD

OTTAWA — (Special.) — The annual picnic of the Putnam-co farm bureau, to be held at the fall grounds, east of Ottawa, Wednesday, promises to be one of the largest scheduled for the fair grounds this season.

The program will be held in the afternoon, when M. D. Lincoln, Columbus, president of the Ohio State Farm Bureau federation, will deliver an address. Congressman C.
J. Thompson, of the fifth Ohio district, will also be one of the speakers.

F. E. Perry, Leipsic, will preside at the meeting. Representative John Hummer, of Putnam-co, will deliver an address.

The morning will be given over to athletic contests, including a mail-diving contest by the women. Horseshoe pitching will be a favorite sport.
A basket dinner will be served at noon.

Orphans of the Allen-co Children's home will be entertained at the dinner and exercises following. Business houses will close and Ottawa merchants and professional men will join with the farmers of the county in observance of the day.

GIVE NOTICE OF REFUSAL TO PAY

Big Tomatoes Raised in St.
Marys—Woman Injured

ST. MARYS — (Special.) — The Western Ohio Railway company has refused to pay its paving assessment for the improvement of W. Jackson and S. Wayne-sts. here, Mayor C. M.
Raudabaugh is notified in a letter received from General Manager F.
D. Carpenter in Lima.

The railroad company's W. Jackson-st assessment is $7,457.30 and for S. Wayne-st, $7,317.60. Mayor Raudabaugh holds to the view that the city is in no wise worried over the ultimatum of the railroad company, for the reason that the streets are being paved under Auglaize-co auspices and that the collection of the assessments is up to the county.

While no direct threat was made,
Mayor Raudabaugh is said to have hinted at a rigid enforcement of the terms of the railroad company's local franchise, in event a reactionary attitude is persisted in. No report has been received here of an injunction obtained by the Western Ohio against the city or county in the matter of the collection of the assessment and an injunction has not been sought, so far as known.

According to Mayor Raudabaugh, the improvement work will proceed despite the action of the railroad company, as the bonds have been signed and the money will be available this week.

A tomato weighing two pounds and another weighing one pound was taken from the Chris. Weaver garden here, said to be the largest of their kind ever raised in this city.

Mrs. F. W. Rabe, New Bremen, near here, suffered intensely Saturday from an injury sustained while operating a power clothes ringer in the basement at the family home.
Her fingers were caught between the rollers. One of the digits was horribly crushed.

LONDON—Mrs. Arthur Hamilton
again has failed to swim the English channel. She reports having left Cape Gris Nez, near Calais, Saturday. She says she was in the water 20 hours and was within three miles of Deal, on the English channel side when she was forced to give up.

IN LOVE, FEARS TO PROPOSE

"Broken Hearted" Is Reminded That "Faint Heart Never Won Fair Lady."

Separation Does Not Mean That Either Can Marry Again Without Divorce.

Miss Smart: A young man and very much in love with a lovely young girl. However, I am not so certain that she cares so much for me as I do for her. She is always very nice, but sometimes she seems to be a bit distant. We have kept our love almost a year and in that time she has not gone with anyone else. I am certain that she must know I care for her, as several times I almost proposed to her, but hesitated because I thought she might refuse me. She never shows me that she cares for me in the least. Don't you think that she should?

BROKEN HEARTED

"AVE courage, 'Broken Hearted.' 'Remember, faint heart never won fair lady.' If you have not told the young girl of your love for her, surely you could not expect her to take the initiative. Condon demands that a girl conceal her love for a man until she is ready to marry him. Certainly this girl has given you sufficient reason to believe that she loves you and values your friendship when she has permitted you to opolize her time and has no doubt refused other invitations. You say you have started to propose to her several times. You know already unwise to fail to finish that which we start. When you have acd sufficient 'courage' to 'almost' propose to the girl you admire you id go right ahead and accomplish your purpose. Doubtless, she feels your hesitancy in this is based upon some fault in her. Naturally, this d hurt her and she would try to suppress her feelings which might at that she cares for you.

Don't be such a coward in this thing. I can't say that I exactly ad this trait in you. Every man risks the possibility of a refusal in prog. Unless you are willing to take this chance, you are not wholly in with this young girl.

GOVERNOR ASKS OHIO TO OBSERVE 'CONSTITUTION DAY'

COLUMBUS—Special "community wide" observance in Ohio September 17, as "constitution day" to mark the 134th anniversary of the completion of the United States constitution, was asked by Governor Harry L. Davis Saturday night.

In a proclamation he set aside that day for the holding of special exercises with which he urges the event be commemorated, to "impress its significance upon the future citizens—that love of country, allegiance to the flag and constitution and obedience to the laws may be perpetuated in them."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to sincerely thank the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted during the illness and death of our beloved father, E. W. Wood, and for the beautiful floral offerings, Rev. Allen Canby for his consoling words and the singers for their beautiful songs.

The Children.

Misses Louise and Florence O'Brien, of W. Spring-st, have returned from a motor trip to Cleveland.

PLAYS FIND FAVOR TWO CLASSED AS WONDERFUL

"LILION" and "Miss Lulu Bett," two of the finest plays produced in New York during the past season, are being made into movies. It is announced. The first is to be called "A Trip To Paradise."

Each of these plays is in striking contrast to the sentimental pieces and society comedies and dramas which formerly were the ones the producer usually took from the stage for movie production.

A year ago a great outcry was raised by play critics, who said that the movies were gaining control of the theatres and that this would have an influence on the sort of plays on the stage in New York. They said that only empty and shallow plays were suitable for the movies, but it seems they were all wrong.

"Miss Lulu Bett" especially has created wide comment among playgoers in New York and is listed as one of the season's best attractions. At the same time it is being picturized, several companies are preparing to take the play on a road tour during the new season.

"THE DEVIL" IS ART. NO DOUBT ABOUT THAT!

AFTER witnessing George Arliss' remarkable performance in the screen version of "The Devil," I find myself wondering where they get that stuff that it takes experience before the camera before anybody is able to do creditable work for the screen. Here comes George Arliss and proves the idea to be all, all wrong.

Wait till you see him! If ever any smoother, polished bit of work has found its way to the screen, I have failed to see it.

He is Dr. Muller, you remember—everybody's friend. Poison is his tongue; barbs in his finger tips; malice in his hospitality. In other words, Evil Incarnate, the masked in sweetness, exuding sympathy; dancing jovially and clapping the world into line.

The life work of Dr. Muller is to dominate all that is good or happy in the lives of those about him with evil. Puppets he terms all those with whom he comes in contact and for a long time he has them jumping as he pulls the strings.

But, after all, a devil is only a devil. So, witness Dr. Muller, undene at last, sink, protesting horribly and picturesquely, into the flames of his own kindling.

In Roland Bottomley, Edmund Lowe, Sylvia Breamer and Mrs. Arliss, the star has splendid support. Lucy Cotton as the girl who is sweet, is too sweet. She makes you long for a pickle.

The picture is mighty well directed and photographed. Its six reels unfold in a manner that keeps you on your toes. Never for a moment can you forget that in Mr. Arliss' acting you are witnessing a marvelous impersonation.

"The Devil"—it is art! At the Lyric theatre today and for three days.

HERE'S THE ROMANCE OF MARY. "K. M."

"THE Magic Cup" is a dear little picture in which the sunny Constance Binney and an A-1 supporting cast wins your warm appreciation. It's not one of the world beaters you hear about—and so seldom see—but contents you with a wholesome and quite interesting story; good acting, fine photography and generally pleasing atmosphere thruout.

Miss Binney is Mary Mallory, temporarily blooming in a hotel kitchen. The warmest and most generous heart in the world has Mary. She's forever giving the under dog a lift. She is an orphan—antecedents unknown. Away down in the bottom of a trunk, however, she has a cup bearing a coat of arms that had been the property of her mother. When money is scarce she pawns the cup. Money is usually scarce, so the cup is in lock most of the time.

One day it attracts the notice of a gentleman of ideas. So, Mary suddenly finds herself an heiress, supposed grand-daughter of an Irish peer. In reality she is in the hands of a band of crooks, until rescued by an enterprising young reporter, who appears with the real Irish peer, who also happens to be Mary's grandfather.

Vincent Coleman, the masculine lead, is a better actor than he looks to be. He is a hard and sincere worker. J. H. Gilmour is also fine in his particular role. I think, tho, that the optence was most in love with Mr. Strauss as the pawn-broker. Such an awful time he has in making the promptings of his head and heart balance!

MARION DAVIES CAVORTS IN "BURIED TREASURE"

IT SEEMS to be a season for psychic and spiritual brands of movies. Here we have "Buried Treasure," with its main theme the theory of incarnation. If I remember rightly, F. Britten Austin wrote the story.

The tale opens with an elaborate prelude, showing the supposed ancestors of Pauline (played by Marion Davies) in various epochs, each supposedly having the same soul as Pauline and handing it on from generation to generation. Then the play proper opens, at a more elaborate masquerade party in her father's mansion. (He's a Wall-et capitalist, and is quite wealthy.)

Pauline is all dressed up in a Spanish senorita outfit and when she gazes at her reflection in the mirror, she has a vague feeling that she sees herself as she appeared in a bygone age.

Now the scene shifts to two pirate ships where Pauline's father is seen identical with El Diablo, a bold, bad pirate. And so Pauline leads her extremely poor sweetheart to Santa Catalina or someplace where he finds much buried treasure and they are married.

If that sounds like a good story to you, go to it. We are inclined to believe, however, that you will not crave the thing a whole lot, neither will you be impressed with the stiff interpretation given by the wooden Miss Davies. (I use that word "wooden" every time I review a picture of hers, but it's the only word that describes the lady.)

"Buried Treasure" is at the Faurot theatre today, only.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"A Private Scandal" in which May Mac Avoy has the leading role, is the Majestic's feature attraction today.

AT THE ORPHEUM:

Hawk's Sunshine Revue" opens today with an elaborate cast and new entertaining features including the Four Harmony Kings.

CLIPPINGS:

It is rumored that Edward Sutherland and little May MacAvoy are terribly interested in each other. He's Thomas Meighan's nephew, you know.

"School Days," with Marshall Neilan at the megaphone, has finally been started. Wesley Barry plays the youthful hero.

Marie Walcamp will return to the screen this fall after a long absence. She will be the featured player in a new Lols Weber production, as yet untitled.

When Wallia Reid's wife makes her appearance in the movies, which will be in a very short time, she will be cast as Mrs. Wallace Reid. Her "maiden" name, is Dorothy Davenport.

Aramis, the fighting theologian of The Three Musketeers, will be played by Eugene Palette, in Douglas Fairbanks production of that story.

Ben Turpin has commenced a series of personal appearances in the western cities, appearing first in Chicago.

Colleen Moore has been selected to play the leading role in Rupert Hughes' new picture, "The Wall Flower."

MOVIE SECRETS ARE REVEALED

Q—What movie star is Jack Dempsey counting in whirlwind fashion in Los Angeles?

A—When Jack Dempsey finished his brief engagement with M. Carpenter he immediately started for Los Angeles. And here is the big surprise—the piquant Babe Daniels is the cause of his hurried cross country trip. Since his arrival on the coast the couple have been inseparable, dancing, swimming, playgoin and automobiling together. Before Jack's advent on the scene the studio matchmakers had it all figured out that Harold Lloyd was going to be the lucky man. Still another interesting fact is that Jack and Harold are old friends, Lloyd having recently given a party for Jack.

Q—How long has Tom Santschi been in movies?

A—Tom recently celebrated the anniversary of his 15th year in the movies. He began with the old Selig company, some of his early pictures being "The Crisis" and "The Garden of Allah." He was born in Kokomo, Ind., and now lives at 1523 Micheltorena-st., Los Angeles, Cal.

Q—When is Bill Hart going to return to the movies?

A—Altho "Bill" returned" almost a year ago he is now planning a comeback next February. He said he plans to make four pictures a year at least half of which will not be westerns. With the censors so busy in so many states cutting out revolver, holdup and shooting scenes, it is somewhat difficult to put on the old westerns with their thrills and fights.

Q—How many fan letters do the Talmadge sisters receive a month?

A—Norma and Constance get 4,000 letters a month. Norma receives about three fourths of these due to the fact that she has been in pictures longer and is more heavily featured. Norma seems to be the idol of the young American girl and the majority of her letters are from women. Constance receives more mail from men and hardly a day passes but that she gets several proposals by mail.

Q—What very famous movie character actor played the part of Simon Legree in an all-star revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin in 1904?"

A—It was none other than our good friend Theodore Roberts.

When you see actor talking to himself on the screen do you know how it is done? There are three different methods of making double exposures which will be explained in this department tomorrow.

(Copyright, 1921.)

Wally Reid will start "Rent Free," having completed "Don't Tell Every-thing."

"I taught school among my own people in the Tennessee mountains for several years after I graduated from college," a southern lecturer says. "Funny things happened. Hearing a boy say 'I ain't gwine thar,' I said to him: 'That's no way to talk. Listen: 'I am not going there; we are not going there; they are not going there.' Do you get the idea?' 'Yessur, I gits it all right. They ain't nobody gwine.'"

The firm of Hansen & Fransen was started in war time and did very well for a couple of years, but last year things were on the downward grade, and the other day, when the two partners had finished making up their nose too good record for the year, Hansen said, "This would make anyone thoughtful. Now that the good times are over, how about a little honest business?" "No, I ain't," said Fransen. "I never indulge in experiments."

Two beggar women meet on the street the other day. "Fine coat you've got there. Where did you land it?" said the first one. "Old Mrs. Gohse Goldie gave it to me," said the second beggar woman. "Is that so? I've begged at Mrs. Gohse Goldie's a hundred times and she never gave me a cent. How did you work her?" "Well, you see," said the first beggar woman, stroking her new coat complacently. "I didn't tell her I was begging for myself. I pretended I was begging for the heathen."

By SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

taining her grip. "What's the matter?" she inquired. "You're killing me!" "Then you don't want to die, after all?" inquired the other. "Not that way!" gasped the girl. "It's my regular treatment for dead-wishers."

"It's brutal," whimpered Darcy. "Everything's brutal. The world's brutal. I hate it! I wish I—Gloria—don't begin again!" "What do you wish?" demanded the administrator of discipline implacably. "I wish I'd never come here at all."

"That's different," commented Miss Greene. "Though it probably isn't true either. Now sit down. Tell me all about it."

"But I don't know where to begin." "Begin in the middle," suggested Gloria helpfully. "Then you can work both ways."

"I will. Well, then, you see, Maud's gone and got engaged." "To whom?" "Holcomb Lee, the illustrator."

"Why should that make you want to die?" Are you in love with Mrs. Lee?" "I'm not in love with anybody. It isn't that."

"Then what is it?" asked the patient Gloria. "It's the whole thing, Helen Barrett is going to marry Paul Wood Maud and Helen and I," pursued the girl, "were going to be the Three Honest Working Girls and keep up our fifty-sixth street bachelor-girl hall for life. And now look!"

"What did you expect?" argued Gloria. "Maud is pretty and energetic and Helen is one of those soft, fluffy creatures that some man always wants to take care of. Bachelor-girl agreements are only made to keep until the right man comes along anyway."

"But where do I come in?" demanded Darcy. "Oh, you'll be getting engaged yourself one of these days."

"Don't you patronize me!" flashed the girl. "I got enough of that at home from those two old-fashioned fumes."

Gloria turned a face of twinkling astonishment upon her visitor. "Why Amanda Darcy Cole! What would the generations of your Puritan forbears—"

"Don't you call me Amanda either! It's an old-maid name. I hate it—even if it does fit."

"It is rather a handicap," admitted her hostess. "But Darcy's pretty enough, anyway."

"It's the only pretty thing about me, Oh, Gloria," burst out the girl. "If you know how I long to be pretty! Not beautiful, like you; I wouldn't ask as much as that. But just pretty enough to be noticed once in a while."

"Why, Darcy, dear—"

"My dear child," she said gently, "are you sure that it isn't some man?"

"I don't care a darn for any man in the world," returned the other with convincing promptitude. "It isn't that. All I want is to be in the game as other girls play it—to have a little attention and maybe a box of candy and some flowers once in a while. There's a somebody inside here," she thumped her narrow, ribby chest, "but I can't get it out."

Rising lumpy to her feet, she stretched out hands of grotesque appeal. "Please, Gloria, she prayed in a dwindling and saltily voice. "I want to raise just a little teeny bit of hell before I die."

A flash of sympathy and comprehension from the actress's intense face answered this noble aspiration. "Why, you're real, aren't you?" she exclaimed. "Are you going to be honest, as well?"

"How honest?" "With me. Are you going to be frank?"

"Of course." "Then tell me what started you on this."

Silently the girl drew from her pocket a full-page drawing from "Life," which she unfolded and handed to the other. She laid a finger on the central figure.

"That's Darcy," said she. Gloria studied the illustration intently. "Who drew it?" "Holcomb Lee."

"Is it drawn from life?" "Yes." "What does Maud say to your sitting as model for her young man?"

"Maud laughed," said Darcy between her teeth. "Pussy, pussy!" commented Miss Greene. "That decided you to keep on, I suppose."

"Naturally. 'Well, the result justifies you.' 'D'you think it's pretty?' 'I most certainly do.'"

"And don't you think it looks just the least little bit like me?" pursued Darcy shyly. "More than that," said Gloria. "That young man knows how to see with his eyes."

"It was his own notion," said the girl. "One night I was sitting at the piano. He said there were lines in my face that he wanted. He asked me if I'd sit for him once. And then he had me come back again and again. I—I liked it. Oh, and one day he said: 'Miss Darcy, you must have been a beautiful child.'"

"Were you?" asked Gloria. "From another pocket Darcy took a small photograph holder. 'Exhibit B,' she said. It showed the head and shoulders of an eleven-year-old girl. "It's charming," said Gloria, and meant it."

"That's the way I ought to look now, only more so. Holcomb said, 'He said it was a spoiled boy.'"

"Pig!" "Oh, no! He just blurted it out as if he was sorry about it. He seemed to think that I was a waste of good material and—he kept swearing under his breath while he was drawing me."

"There I'm with him," declared Gloria vigorously. "What happened to change you from this?" Gloria held up exhibit B. "Well, I had an illness when I was thirteen. And about then we lost our money. And my parents died a little while after. And I never seemed to get back much life or spirit or ambition or digestion or anything."

"Presto—pass! You're a lay figure."

"What does a lay figure do, please?" "It doesn't. It's dead. It's dumb. Don't talk. You distract my mind."

For several minutes she walked around the girl, debating her from every angle with pitiless impersonality. At the conclusion of this ordeal the actress expertly daubed Darcy's face with make-up. Next the subject's hair was arranged, and her figure draped in the flowing lines of some shimmering fabric chosen from a carved chest. She was then told to straighten her spine, and smile.

With strong hands Gloria prodded, bent and molded the girl's yielding figure to the desired posture. Finally she wheeled into position, several yards away, a full-length glass, and turned on all overhead light.

"Now. Look in here." Looking, Darcy gave a little gasp of wonder and delight. Under the modulated radiance, the harsh spots and lines of the make-up had blended into a harmonious ensemble. The face was that of Holcomb Lee's picture—almost.

"Oh!" cried Darcy hoarsely. "Could you ever make me like that?" "No."

"Then why did you let me—"

"But if I can't, perhaps some one else can."

"Who?" "You." "Me!" "You, your own little, lone self."

declared the actress with electrifying vigor. "What must I do? How do I do it? What do I need?" cried Darcy in a breath.

"Grit." "Pooh!" retorted Darcy with an other glance at the magic glass. "I'll furnish the grit, if you'll show me how to do the rest."

"Very well," said Gloria. "Of all your little ambitions which one would you like to have fulfilled first?"

The girl pondered. "Dress," she decided presently. "I want to have beautiful, thrilling clothes, like a princess."

"The one princess of my acquaintance," observed Gloria, "looks as though she dressed herself backward out of a mail-order catalogue. But clothes cost money."

Darcy closed her hands. "I'm rich," she announced triumphantly. "How rich?"

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up kidney deposits are dissolved and the toxins (poisons) completely driven out. "Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning of your kidneys." Don't neglect them. When your back aches, have darting pains, dizziness, headaches, bad stomach and tongue, annoying bladder troubles, cloudy urine, rheumatism, puffy eyes, specks, or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, Kidney Trouble in its worst form may be stealing upon you. Never mind the failures of the past, insist upon having, at once, a bottle of guaranteed Dr. Carey's Marsh-Rot Prescription, No. 777 (Liquid or Tablet form) from Hunter's Drug Stores, Thompson's 3 Drug Stores, or any other reliable druggist, for Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away, they will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unflinching certainty. Every good druggist has been authorized to refund purchase price on two bottles to all who state they have had no benefit.—Adv.

JUSTICE CLEMENT GAINS 30 LBS.

Says He Would Be Dodging Duty If He Did Not Tell Facts About Tanlac.

"Tanlac has not only restored me to health, but it has actually built me up thirty pounds in weight besides, and I feel that I would be dodging my duty not to give the public the benefit of the facts."

The above statement was made by Oliver D. Clement, prominent real estate man and Justice of the Peace of Muskegon, Mich. Mr. Clement resides at 1309 Leamy St., and has offices at 9 East McKinney Ave.

"I had been going down hill for two years," said he, "suffering from my stomach, kidneys and nerves. I had nearly quit eating on account of indigestion, and my back hurt me terribly. I couldn't sleep and finally got in such bad shape I couldn't get out of the house and had to use a cane to get about at all. I was almost a physical wreck and things looked mighty gloomy for me."

"One day a friend suggested that I try Tanlac. I felt very little improvement from the first bottle, but I stuck with it and after the second bottle I felt considerably better. My appetite returned and I started picking up in weight. Today I weigh one hundred and seventy-five pounds and my friends who haven't seen me since I got Tanlac hardly know me. I am brimful of new life and energy and can attend to my business as well as I ever could. I simply feel the good of Tanlac to my finger tips."

Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Store and by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Why Grow Old Before Your Time?

It isn't years along that make one old. Many folks are younger at 70 than others are at 50.
